

1 overflow classes are huge challenges for the teachers. The teachers have a transitional student 2 population because the students are transferred in and out of the classes as spaces open up at other 3 schools. The challenge of these classes is compounded because the teachers don't get the same 4 support other teachers get because they are substitutes.

5 7. We bus out of the school more students than we keep. We have about 1000 students
6 who attend the school, and we bus out about 1400 students. We try to bus as few of the little kids
7 as we can, so we have 12 Kindergarten classes and much fewer older kids' classes because we'd 8 rather bus a fifth grader than a Kindergartener. We only have four fourth and fifth grade classes, 9 compared with 12 classes each in grades Kindergarten through third.
